336 PAGES

At thirteen, Kate Reid already knew exactly where she was headed: a career in Formula 1, a life lived at full throttle. Like a master cartographer she had drawn the map of her future – all she had to do was follow the course she'd charted. But after earning a degree in aerospace engineering and taking up a coveted position at one of the top F1 teams in the UK, Kate discovered that the reality didn't exactly live up to the dream. The pursuit of perfection that had once made her reach for the moon now sent her spiralling into a life-threatening battle against depression and anorexia.

TITLE: NEW AGE OF SEXISM AUTHOR: LAURA BATES / NON-FICTION
320 PAGES

Laura Bates takes us deep into the heart of this rapidly evolving world. She explores the metaverse, confronts deepfake pornography, travels to cyber brothels, tests chatbots, and hears from schools in the grip of online sexual abuse, showing how our lives – from education to work, sex to entertainment – are being infiltrated by easily accessible technologies that are changing the way we live and love. What she finds is a wild west where existing forms of discrimination, inequality and harassment are being coded into the future we will all have little choice about living in – unless we seize this moment to demand change.

TITLE: JOY MOODY IS OUT OF TIME AUTHOR: KERRY MAYNE / FICTION
362 PAGES

For much of their lives, Joy has been telling Cassie and Andie one big, fat lie that they are from the future, and that when they turn twenty-one, they will travel back to the year 2050. What started as a colourful tale to explain how the girls came to live with her has now become a decades-long deception. Worse still, Joy has started to believe it herself. The big lie is certainly preferable to the truth she just can't face – about what happened to the girls' real mother, Britney, and how far Joy's gone to keep them 'safe'. Time is fast running out for Joy Moody. In more ways than one.

TITLE: LARRIMAH AUTHOR: CAROLINE GRAHAM, KYLIE STEVENSON / TRUE CRIME
392 PAGES

Larrimah: hot, barren, a speck of dust in the centre of the nothingness of outback Australia. Where you might find a death adder in the bar and a spider or ten in the toaster. Maybe it's stupid to write a love letter to a town that looks like this, especially when it's someone else's town. A town where there's nothing to see, nothing to buy and the closest thing to an attraction is a weird Pink Panther in a gyrocopter whose head falls off intermittently. A town steeped in ancient superstition and pockmarked with sinkholes. It's Kadaitja country. People go missing in the bush there, the traditional owners say.

TITLE: LIMBERLOST AUTHOR: ROBBIE ARNOTT / HISTORICAL FICTION

In 1970s Baltimore, 14yr old Mary Jane loves cooking with her mother, singing in her church choir, and enjoying her family's subscription to the Broadway Show Tunes of the Month record club. Shy, quiet, and bookish, she's glad when she lands a summer job as a nanny for the daughter of a local doctor. A respectable job, Mary Jane's mother says. In a respectable house. The house may look respectable on the outside, but inside it's a literal and figurative mess. And even more troublesome, the doctor is a psychiatrist who has cleared his summer for one important job—helping a famous rock star dry out. A week after Mary Jane starts, the rock star and his movie star wife move in.

The young detectives call Alan Auhl a retread, but that doesn't faze him. He does things his own way—and gets results. He still lives with his ex-wife, off and on, in a big house full of random boarders and hard-luck stories. And he's still a cop, even though he retired from Homicide some years ago. He works cold cases now. Like the death of John Elphick—his daughters still convinced he was murdered, the coroner not so sure. Or the skeleton that's just been found under a concrete slab. Or the doctor who killed two wives and a girlfriend and left no evidence at all. Auhl will stick with these cases until justice is done. One way or another.

TITLE: THE VANISHING HALF AUTHOR: BRIT BENNETT / HIST. FICTION
343 PAGES

The Vignes twin sisters will always be identical. But after growing up together in a small, southern black community and running away at age sixteen, it's not just the shape of their daily lives that is different as adults, it's everything: their families, their communities, their racial identities. Many years later, one sister lives with her black daughter in the same southern town she once tried to escape. The other passes for white, and her white husband knows nothing of her past. Still, even separated by so many miles and just as many lies, the fates of the twins remain intertwined.

TITLE: WHEN ALL IS SAID AUTHOR: ANNE GRIFFIN / FICTION

Charlotte Walker has taken up a fellowship on the tiny South Atlantic Island of Tuga de Oro to study the endangered gold coin tortoises in the jungle interior. She can claim the best of reasons for this year in paradise—What better motivation than to save a species?—but the reality is more complex. For Charlotte has secretly come to believe that she has her own connection to this remote and eccentric community, and she is finally determined to solve the mystery that has dominated her life. But she will have little time for any of her declared or covert investigations. She is inconveniently attracted to the new island doctor.

TITLE: THE WAGER AUTHOR: DAVID GRANN / HISTORY NON-FICTION
257 PAGES

1742, a ramshackle vessel of patched-together wood and cloth washed up on the coast of Brazil. Inside were thirty emaciated men, barely alive, and they had an extraordinary tale to tell. They were survivors of His Majesty's Ship the Wager, a British vessel that had left England in 1740 on a secret mission during an imperial war with Spain. The men, marooned for months and facing starvation, built the flimsy craft and sailed for more than a hundred days, storm-wracked seas. They were greeted as heroes. But then six months later, another, even more decrepit craft landed on the coast of Chile. This boat had just three castaways, and they told a very different story.

TITLE: WOMEN OF THE CASTLE AUTHOR: JESSICA SHATTUCK / FICTION
384 PAGES

Marianne von Lingenfels, whose husband was one of many resisters murdered in a failed attempt to assassinate Hitler, returns to the beautiful but dilapidated Bavarian castle, Burg Lingenfels, as the war comes to an end. She had promised her friend, another resister, that she would watch over his wife Benita and their child if anything happened to him. The quotidian focus of the story, falling on the period just after the war, provides a unique glimpse into what the average German was and was not aware of during World War II's darkest months.

TITLE: WIMMERA AUTHOR: MARK BRANDI / CRIME & THRILLER
263 PAGES

Summer of 1989, Ben and Fab are best friends. Growing up in a small country town, they spend their days playing cricket, yabbing in local dams, wanting a pair of Nike Air Maxes and not talking about how Fab's dad hits him or how the sudden death of Ben's next-door neighbour unsettled him. Almost teenagers, they already know some things are better left unsaid. Then a newcomer arrived in the Wimmera. Fab reckoned he was a secret agent and he and Ben staked him out. Neither realised the shadow this man would cast over both their lives. Twenty years later, a body is found in the river, and Fab can't ignore the past anymore.

TITLE: YELLOWFACE AUTHOR: REBECCA F. KUANG / FICTION
319 PAGES

White like. Dark humour. Deadly consequences... Bestselling sensation Juniper Song is not who she says she is, she didn't write the book she claims she wrote, and she is most certainly not Asian American. Authors June Hayward and Athena Liu were supposed to be twin rising stars. But Athena's a literary darling, June Hayward is a literary nobody. Who wants stories about basic white girls, June thinks. So, when June witnesses Athena's death in a freak accident, she steals Athena's just-finished masterpiece, an experimental novel about the unsung contributions of Chinese labourers during World War One.
